Thank you so much Ms. Long,

The below link is very helpful, thank you to the EPA for getting this set up. We intend to submit our Part B application via e-mail with an imbedded link to the Haley & Aldrich secure file transfer, as we did for the pre-application meeting. Our e-mail only transmits a maximum size of 35 MB. Thank you again.

Ms. Martinez,

For your awareness, EPA just set up a CCR Part B Implementation website. Please follow the "How to Submit a Demonstration Package" instructions to submit the your application.

<https://www.epa.gov/coalash/ccr-part-b-implementation>

This information is the same as we have already shared with you, below, but I wanted to tell you we set up the website. Thanks.

Good afternoon Ms. Martinez,

I received your message from my colleague Kirsten Hillyer. I'm the point of contact for the Part B demonstrations.

I think I was the person who was able to access the sharefile link to open all the files for the November 12 call. None of the pages are blank from the 3 files I downloaded from the sharefile site. That should work for us to send that way too, and if you're able to send it early just to make sure we can open everything, that would be great. Also, EPA email can receive up to 150MB of files, but the sharefile site would also work.

Similar to the November 12 meeting, please send to Richard Huggins, Mary Jackson, Jason Mills, and me. Let us know if you have further questions. Thanks.

Good afternoon Ms. Hillyer,

It is Salt River Project's intent to submit a Part B application for our Coronado Generating Station, on or before the November 30 deadline. We were concerned that our Part B Rule Discussion materials only fully conveyed to one EPA participant for our meeting November 12. Some staff conveyed they were unable to download and some were only able to see a partial download (some blank pages were noted). Could you please be of assistance in confirming the full receipt of the download to the EPA? I want to ensure receipt of all narrative, appendices (no blank pages) are properly received. Please advise if you can be of assistance, if so I will let you know when the materials have been conveyed.

As with other submittals, this file size will be very large or broken into two (still larger) parts. We are awaiting final revisions from our consultant, so plan to submit as early as tomorrow or as late as November 30 (pending this final draft review) via Haley & Aldrich secure link. Thank you so much for your consideration.
